

Environmental Policy

As an organisation providing professional cleaning services to commerce and industry, Cleandustrial Services Pty Ltd is committed to continuously monitoring, reviewing and improving its performance with regard to reducing its environmental impact. Our Environmental Management System is based on the principles of ISO 14001, complying with all relevant regulatory requirements of the Environmental Protection Act 1986. In addition, our environmental practices have been subjected to external auditing under the Government of Western Australia's Green Stamp and Light Industry Programs. In keeping with this, we resolve to maintain our focus on such issues as:-

- Wastewater management;
- Solid waste reduction and recycling;
- Reduction and management of hazardous chemicals;
- Sourcing chemicals with reduced environmental impact and environmental credentials;
- Environmentally friendly use of chemicals, products, equipment & machinery;
- Chemical storage and spill management;
- Water and energy efficiency;
- Compliance with all relevant Government health and environmental legislation;
- Education of staff at all levels to promote responsible environmental behaviour; and
- Co-operation with clients and networking with other organisations to source and implement best-practice environmental systems and procedures.

Cleandustrial Services recognises its responsibility to allocate appropriate resources, implement appropriate policies and practices and provide appropriate instructions, training and supervision to encourage the protection of the environment. Cleandustrial also expects all employees, sub-contractors and management to take responsibility for following these instructions and minimising the organisation's adverse impact on the environment.

To achieve this, Cleandustrial is committed to providing a mechanism for regular participation and reporting at all levels of the organisation and for the setting and reviewing of environmental objectives and targets.
